

MY VISIT TO THE SWIMMING POOL

What happens when there is a casualty in the swimming pool?

At the swimming pool, sometimes people get into danger. When this happens we call them a casualty.

When there is a casualty in the water, the lifeguards will help them.

An alarm will sound to alert the staff. This can be very loud.

The lifeguards will take the casualty out of the water.

They may need to give first aid or CPR

You must stay away from the casualty.
If it is very serious you will be asked to leave the pool area.

A member of staff will guide you to an appropriate place.

You must always listen to and follow their instructions.

If you don't know what to do or where to go, ask a lifeguard or member of staff.
