Subject: Doagh and Ballyclare

I would like to make a few comments about your plans for the Newtownabbey and Antrim areas. The plan to build anymore houses in the Doagh area where we do not have the infrastructure of roads etc to cope, would be unwise. I no that Ballclare struggles with traffic as well. Doagh gets the Northend of Ballyclare and other traffic that are heading to Ballymena and beyond as well. Doagh does not need anymore houses as that will bring even more congestion. If anything we would need some sort of traffic controll.

Regards,
John.
